Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

The clip sheet of the University of California, which reaches this desk each week, is an interesting document. Watching it grow over the years, under the expert direction of Harold Ellis, one feels much the same admiration for it as one does for a thrifty plant, that gradually extends its root system and rears its shining crown a little higher each year into the sunshine. Just now it is worth while to note in this brief summary of university activities how well the colleges of this great institution (enrollment 20,000 or such a matter) is being adapted to the war effort.

Eleven out of the seventeen items on the clip sheet have to do with either the prosecution of, or are associated in some manner, with the war effort. For instance, interest in the history of New World countries has been much heightened by the war. Admittance to courses in United States history have been broadened to permit lower classmen, as well as juniors and seniors, to enroll in these courses. A new lecturer has been engaged to give courses in the history of South and Central American republics, included comprehensively in a history of the Western Hemisphere.

A series of lectures are to be given on "The Permanent Values of Civilization." These lectures will deal with the contributions to civilization by the Greeks, the Romans, the French, the Scandinavians, Early Germans, Italians, Spanish, and other peoples. Heads of language departments or their professional assistants, are to give these lectures.

From the Los Angeles campus of the U. C. comes the report of a survey which reveals that a large proportion of the students prefer army or navy careers to other professions, such as music, mechanical engineering, ministry, the theatre, or management. Also from the south is the report of a course given for girls, particularly stressing physical fitness in order that they may prove fit to take a place in whatever war industry or activity they may choose. First aid, safety measures, recreational leadership along with body develment and sports, emphasis being placed on skill rather than muscular development, are listed in this series of studies.

Heightened interest in maintaining public health standards, during the war period has resulted in the university giving an eight weeks' course to groups employed in this field, Sacramento alone sending 29 sanitation workers to take this course. An assistant professor of fruit technology Dr. M. A. Joslyn, member of the U. C. faculty, has been sent to aid in the food dehydration industry in Australia. On the several campuses of the university offices have been set up to supply all students with information regarding opportunities of enlistment in the Army or Navy Reserves.

These are all related to the war interest, and are typical of the university's change of direction since the war began. As a matter of fact they hardly reflect the drastic change that has taken place in its activity and curriculum.

Noted also is that the university continues its annual custom of inviting all editors of California to a one day visit to the campus at Berkeley to acquaint themselves with each new step in the progress of the institution. This will occur next Saturday. It usually proves of even wider interest than events called by the newspaper profession itself. This, too, was one of the innovations introduced by Harold Ellis. It has done much to keep California's press informed of the university's great and vital work in the economic and cultural development of California.

In lighter vein is a new phamphlet just published by the University Press and noted on the clip sheet. The booklet is entitled "A Collection of Welsh Riddles." It was compiled by Vernon E. Hull, associate professor of English, New York University and Archer Taylor, professor of German, U. C. Among the riddles: . "In what month does a woman talk the least?" Answer: In February. "Why do black sheep eat less than white ones?" Answer: There are fewer of them. "What stones are most frequent in the river?" Answer: Wet stones. "Where was the first nail struck?" Answer: On the head.

Lava Cap Can Continue Due To Production Of Essential Smelter Flux

Definite assurance of the continuation of operation of the Lava Cap Gold Mining properties came Saturday afternoon when General Manager Otto Schiffner received a telegram from Dr. Wilbur Nelson, head of the mining branch of the War Production Board, stating the Lava Cap is not included in the Gold Mining Limitations Order as long as its production is considered essential in the operation of the Selby lead smelter.

At the same time, Schiffner announced plans to absorb at least 75 men who will lose their jobs at other mines in this area due to the shutdown order from the WPB. Mining operations at the other mines, which include the Idaho-Maryland and New Brunswick, leading gold producers of this state for the past several years, Empire, which has been in operation without a shutdown since 1850, the North Star and Pennsylvania.

The news that the Lava Cap will be able to continue operations was received joyfully both in Nevada City and Grass Valley. It will take most of the sting from the government's closing order of the other mines.

At present the Lava Cap employs approximately 300 men. When it adds 75 more the crew will be 375. In addition the gold mines will be able to retain maintenance crews, approximately 50 for each mine so the mining industry will still retain quite a payroll in this county.

The Lava Cap statement follows:

We have just received a telegram from Wilbur A. Nelson, Administrator of Mining Branch, War Production Board, Washington, as follows:

"Lava Cap Gold Mining Corporation Nevada City, California

Mr. Donald Nelson requests me to reply to your telegram. Mines having serial numbers under Order P!-56 are exempt from provisions of Gold Mining Limitations Order L!-208. You have Serial No. 31-197 and will retain that number as long as your production considered essential by oeration of American Smelting & Refining Company's Lead Smelter. The mine under this serial number is not affected by Gold Mining Limitations Order.

S/ WILBUR A. NELSON
Administrator of Mining Branch."

The management of the American Smelting & Refining Company is urging us to increase our production as an urgent necessity in the war effort. We are now in a position to relieve the communities of Nevada City and Grass Valley of undue hardships due to the closing of the other gold mines by employing all the available men who have families, homes, and ties which will not enable them to leave for employment in outside strategic mineral mines. We will be able to absorb approximately 75 of such men as they become available.

We do not wish in any way to interfere with the other mines in the district and will only give employment to such men as are released from the other mines. Obviously, we do not wish to employ any men who will have permanent employment in the other mines as maintenance crews. All hiring of such men will be done at the Federal Employment Office where our Mr. Chas. Gibson may be contacted 8 to 12 o'clock in the morning each day. We shall definitely give preference to married men who own their homes in our communities.

MAIL SOLDIERS' XMAS GIFTS BEFORE NOVEMBER 1.

READ THE RULES—The following rules, issued by the Postoffice Department in cooperation with the Army Postal Service of the War Department, apply to the mailing of Christmas parcels for members of our Armed Forces serving outside the continental limits of the United States.

TIME OF MAILING—Christmas parcels and greeting cards should be mailed during the period beginning October 1 and ending November 1, 1942, the earlier the better. Each package should be endorsed "Christmas Parcel." Special effort will be made for delivery in time for Christmas.

SIZE AND WEIGHT—Christmas parcels shall not exceed 11 pounds in weight, or 18 inches in length or 42 inches in length and girth combined. However, the public has been urged to cooperate by voluntarily restricting parcels to the size of an ordinary shoe box and the weight to six pounds.

USE CARE IN PREPARATION—Remembering the great distance this mail will be transported and the necessary storage and frequent handling, it is absolutely necessary that articles be packed in substantial boxes or containers and be covered with wrappers of sufficient strength to resist pressure of other mail. Each parcel is subject to censorship and delay may be minimized by securing covering to permit ready inspection of contents.

PROHIBITED MATTER—Intoxicants, inflammable materials, poisons or compositions likely to damage mails are unmailable. No perishable matter should be included in parcels.

HOW TO ADDRESS PARCELS—Addresses must be legible. Parcels addressed to overseas Army personnel should show in addition to the full name and address of the sender, the name rank, Army serial number, branch of service, organization, A.P.O. number of the addressee and the postoffice through which parcels are to be routed. Units located within the continental United States may be addressed direct, using name, rank, organization and location.

POSTAGE MUST BE FULLY PREPAID—The rate on parcels of fourth-class matter (exceeding eight ounces) being the zone rate applicable from the postoffice where mailed to the postoffice in the care of which parcels are addressed.

GREETING MESSAGES PERMISSIBLE—Inscriptions such as "Merry Christmas", "Don't open until Christmas" and the like may be placed on the covering of the parcel if it does not interfere with the address. Cards may be enclosed and books may bear a simple dedicatory inscription.

INSURANCE AND REGISTRY—Gifts of value should be insured. Articles of small size and considerable value should be sealed and sent as first-class registered mail.

MONEY ORDERS—The Army Postal Service recommends use of postal money orders to transmit gifts of money to members of Armed Forces outside the United States. These are cashed at A.P.O. in local foreign currency at rate of exchange on date of presentation.

NCNG Line Bought By Steel Firm

The historic Nevada County Narrow Gauge Railroad Saturday became the property of L. Dulien, president of the Dulien Steel Products, Inc. The sale of the railroad to the steel magnate by the group of Nevada County businessmen, who owned it for the last 15 years, included the present passenger bus and freight truck business and the new terminal building in Grass Valley.

The deal was completed by J. Earl Taylor, general manager of the narrow gauge, and Fred Athearn, former state commissioner of corporations, who represented Dulien. The sale was consummated in San Francisco.

The new owner has assured Nevada County residents that the same efficient service rendered by the railroad in the past will be given in the future.

Taylor was asked to continue as general manager of the railroad but it was reported he declined the position because of ill health.

The Dulien Steel Products, Inc., is especially interested in obtaining all salvageable metal from the railroad, possibly for use in its steel manufacturing plants.

Since the first of January approximately 700 tons of old scrap, including rails, old boilers and other railroad equipment, has been sold by the narrow gauge.

The sale of the narrow gauge to Dulien marks another chapter in the history of the famous line, which had its first run in May, 1876. Recently, the railroad applied for abandonment of its line from Nevada City, Grass Valley to Colfax and the request was recently granted by the state Roilroad Commission when it was assured the two communities would be given efficient service through the passenger bus and the freight line.

The group of businessmen of Nevada City and Grass Valley who took over the railroad when it was on its last legs 15 years ago and turned it into an efficient and profitable business, includes Fred F. Cassidy, Geo. Calanan and William Tamblyn of this community.

YELLOWJACKETS LOSE TO G. V.

The Nevada City Yellowjacket football team lost to the Grass Valley Miners by a 13 to 6 score here Saturday but the locals are confident they can upset the Miner eleven when the two teams tangle again on Armistice Day in Grass Valley.

Bill Jamerson made the Yellowjacket touchdown when he plunged across the line after a pass from Jamerson to Warren Smith had placed the pigskin on the Grass Valley ten yard stripe.

Grass Valley's touchdowns came directly through passes from Childers to Blake.

WARD SHELDON WILL EXPLAIN AMENDMENTS

The Nevada City Woman's Civic Club will hold its next program meeting on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 22 at the Grammar School auditorium. Ward Sheldon will be the guest speaker of the afternoon and will explain the amendments on the November ballot. It will be an open meeting and the public is cordially invited to attend. It is hoped that many will avail themselves of the opportunity to learn what the amendments really mean. Mr. Sheldon will put the legal phraseology into "plain English."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Myers of Gold Flat returned Monday from a week end visit with relatives and friends in Napa. Niles, San Bruno, Oakland and San Francisco. Miss Betty Myers accompanied them and visited her mother in Napa.

Caught in the Riffles

Chief of Police Max Solaro is awaiting a call into the Army. Max has volunteered for officer's training and hopes to get into the Militar Police branch of the service.

Ever since the outbreak of the war, Chief of Police Solaro has been anxious to join the U. S. armed forces and now, despite the birth of a daughter to him and Mrs. Solaro recently, he sees his way clear to get in the fight against the enemy. If Solaro passes his physical examination and it accepted, Mrs. Solaro and the couple's daughter will reside with Mrs. Solaro's mother in Gold Flat for the duration of the war.

The Department of Information, Commonwealth of Australia, sends The Nugget a snapshot of Second Lieutenant W. G. (Wild Bill) Bennett of Nevada City. The picture shows Wild Bill has not let the war take away his cheery smile. The caption under the picture read:

"A snapshot from an advanced operational base in Australia: Second Lieut. W. G. Bennett of Nevada City, California, who has had one Zero confirmed and two probables, together with one very probable bomber."

"All St. Louis and Chicago papers headlining the closing o the gold mines," writes Bob Paine, who at the time of the issuance of the order was crossing the Mississippi at St. Louis, Mo., enroute to St. Petersburg, Fla.

Willard Parks writes from Geiger Field, Wash., wishing a "cheery hello" to every one in Nevada City. Parks was living in Alleghany when he was drafted and wants The Nugget sent to him so he can know what is going on in this section.

Elbredge Skeahan, former assistant postmaster of the Nevada City Postoffice, was voted the "handsomest man" of the class of postal employees throughout the country attending the postal inspector school in Washington, D. C. That was to be expected for Elbredge could probably have been awarded a similar honor for the whole of Nevada City, even Nevada County or possibly the state, exclusive of Hollywood.

State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson, who owns gold mining property in Sierra County, declares "the action of the government in closing the gold mines is unjustified and tragic. The gold mining operators of California have maintained an essential industry whoch has contributed more to the progress of this state and well being of its citizens than any other industry. Needless disorganization of basic industries will make the post war problems more difficult of solution."

Fire Season Not Yet Over Despite Light Rain

Fire Chief Marc Edmonds of the Tahoe National Forest states that the light precipitation will not end fire season. Precipitation of any amount has not fallen since late in May and the accumulated dryness will take considerable rain before danger of fire is past. Edmonds states that with cooler weather during the hunting season hunters must be cautioned against building large warming fires as they are difficult to extinguish and often break out after being left. Edmonds further states that many people will want to burn rubbish at this time and warns that burning permits as required by state law will be necessary until December first.

THE DRAFT STAMPEDE

(From the New York Herald-Tribune)

Many men of draft age are being stampeded into enlisting in the armed service of the country because of the numerous conflicting announcements that have been issued from the national draft headquarters.

Men who very likely will never be called for service, or may not be called for many months, are hurrying down and signing up in order to beat the draft and select the sort of duty to which they prefer to be assigned.

This wholesale turnover in man-power is having a chaotic effect on industry and on the recruiting machinery of the army, navy, marines and other branches of the federal service. Draft boards themselves are confused by the numerous contradictory instructions they receive and this confusion amounts almost to panic when passed down to those men—married and otherwise—who expect eventually to be called but who actually may prove to be borderline cases.

Along with the expressed certainty that they will have to go, these men are being hastened into the service by rumors circulating around that one-legged, one-armed men, the deaf, the dumb and the blind are being drafted and no matter what one's physical condition may be he can expect to be placed in uniform when his time comes.

The Los Angeles Times, in taking note of the draft confusion states editorially that " a situation seriously threatening national morale is the apparently contradictory and conflicting statements issuing from various officials of the selective service."

While admitting it is not fair to charge all these statements to the account of Maj. Gen. Louis B. Hershey, director of the draft, the Times says Hershey personally has made "so many different announcements since the war began that the average prospective draftee does not know whether he is afoot or on horseback."

And, adds the Times: "Since each man who may be sent into the army has numerous personal affairs to settle about his family and his job, the state of uncertainty in which these statements leave him, his employer, his family, his creditors, his debtors and his employes creates a wide circle of possible discontent which certainly does no good to the war effort."

Early this year General Hershey is quoted as talking about an army of 3,600,000 men. Lately he is quoted as talking about an army of 10,000,000 to 13,000,000. These larger figures convince every prospect that he is certain to go and may as well beat the draft by enlisting immediately. This boosts recruiting in all branches of the service, but it throws communities into turmoil and causes much local disruption, a great deal of which may well be unnecessary and avoidable.

For married men to be told one month they may have to go immediately and then to be told the next they might not go for another year doesn't have a very soothing effect on the family nerves. Hershey is probably responsible for sending many men into uniform months before it is necessary for them to go, and very probably has caused the crippling of industries that are essential to the war effort.

Hershey may be limited in his announcements by fear of divulging vital military information. But he can at least say so instead of throwing everyone off balance and making the people wonder what kind of a system the government uses in handling its draft. The draft is a momentous event in the life of every family. To have it beclouded with uncertainty and doubt is the worst possible thing that can happen.

The nation must lay down an orderly and firm draft policy which will give all prospective draftees a thorough understanding of what confronts them and give them an idea how long it may be before they mal be called. To do this will settle much unrest and allay much public concern. Asking the men of the nation to risk their lives in its service, the government at least must give them every chance to prepare themselves and not keep them constantly in a hubbub over what may happen to them.

SIGNIFICANCE OF THE "ANTI INFLATION" MEASURES

As a means of stopping our inflationary trend they amount to nothing. Quite the contrary, these measures are virtually a guarantee by congress, asked by the president, that the inflationary trend will be continued.

The measures make it mandatory that farmers shall receive an income greater than they have had in any year in more than a quarter of a century. That is the purpose of the "parity" principle. One may call this justice if he likes, but it is a strange use for the word, for under present circumstances at least it means that the whole agricultural section is protected from the impact of the war—regardless of how hard up the rest of us may become, farmers are assured that they may go along with an income better than anything they have had since the last war.

The labor provisions, from the point of view of preventing further inflation, are even worse. The total amount of buying power flowing into the hands of labor through wages can continue to increase. Everyone whose wages do not meet the Little Steel formula—15 per cent above the January, 1941 level—will be given a raise sufficient to bring it up to that point. Here too, the point seems to be, just as in the case of the farmer, the purpose is to protect this segment of our economy from the impact of the war, and to protect it with the highest wages and the highest standard of living in history. One cannot argue that this is the way to prevent inflation; neither is it a point to argue the "equality of sacrifice" that our labor leaders are so fond of using.

Putting the two sides of the picture together, here is what we will have under the terms of the measures: (1) No reduction in the total volume of buying power in the hands of the farmers; (2) A still further increase in the total volume of wage payments; (3) A constantly decreasing volume of goods for which this buying power may be spent. This is a formula for continuing, not for stopping it.

NEWS IN RHYME

Wendell Willkie, vigorous man,
Is taking every continent's span.
First on his good-will trip he flew,
To Africa, then Egypt, too.
Then he went to Turkey's shore,
To sell the Turks on freedom's war.
In Russian, he supped with Uncle Joe,
From there to China he did go.
And everywhere this big man went,
Our friendly allies soon unbent.
They answered Willkie's every question,
And gave him many a good suggestion.
Wendell wore out every friend,
For his energy, without an end,
Led him to talk to every soul,
In every valley, house and knoll,
Who might have precious information,
To benefit our fighting nation.
The Russ, said Willkie, bear the brunt,
Of battle—and the Second Front,
Is something that they all desire,
Be brought from plan to steel and fire.
The great cost the Russians freely pay,
Makes them fret a bit at the easier way,
Their allies go about the war,
When Russia needs aid more and more.
That's the story, Willkie believes,
And if we're to beat the Nazi thieves,
We'd best act now and very fast,
For hesitators do not last,
In the rapid change of this brute age,
Where power and speed are the only gauge.
Of strength to beat down Nazi rule,
With sharpened and shining streamlined tool.
So Willkie says—he's surely right;
Let's go to work—this is our fight!

TOO MANY PEOPLE ARE STILL TRAVELING ON WEEK ENDS—SAYS ODT
WASHINGTON, (AP) — Too many people still are traveling on week-ends by bus and train.
Sounding this complaint today, the office of Defense Transportation said that a further shift to mid-week travel of at least 8 per cent was necessary to eliminate the peak week-end travel load.
The report showed heaviest ticket sales on Saturday, when an average of 21 per cent of the week's entire sales take place. Sunday is next with 16 per cent.

THE OFFICE OF DEFENSE TRANSPORTATION states that week end travel must be reduced. Only so much transportation is available, and war service must come first. Transportation facilities are being stretched to the limit. New buses are difficult to obtain. Unnecessary bus service is being eliminated to meet the ever growing demands of the armed forces, war workers, and others who must travel to help win the war. Hundreds of our men, who used to serve you, are now in the military service (and we're proud of them) creating a serious shortage of trained personnel.

The time has come when every American must realize that pleasure travel is a peacetime luxury.

Greyhound is committed to the vital job of providing one service only—essential transportation.

If You MUST Travel, Follow These Suggestions:

★ Ride on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays—leave week ends for men in uniform and war workers
★ Get tickets and information well in advance.
★ Take as little baggage as possible.

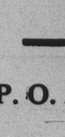
FEWER WEEKEND TRIPS PLEASE

Over fifty per cent more people are riding by bus today than ever before, according to F. W. Ackerman, vice president of Pacific Greyhound Lines. While a majority of the new bus passengers are men in uniform and war workers, Mr. Ackerman pointed out, present restrictions on private cars have also created thousands of new bus riders, and the rationing of galosine will soon make even more people dependent on public transportation.

Service men use the buses in much greater numbers on Fridays, Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. There is no slackening in transportation to the war plants, most of which never close, and weekends and holidays are also the favorite travel days for the general public. As a result buses are completely swamped on these days.

The Office of Defense Transportation is now requesting that the general public voluntarily reduce their weekend and holiday use of public carriers, that only trips that are absolutely necessary be made, and that such traveling be done on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays.



Wasted money is wasted lives. Don't waste precious lives. Every dollar you can spare should be used to buy War Bonds. Buy your ten per cent every pay day.

Indigent Relief In Nevada County Drops

The number of people receiving indigent relief in Nevada County dropped 13 per cent from July to August, going from 46 for July to 40 for August, California Taxpayers Association stated today.

The amount expended by the county in direct county indigent relief dropped 11 per cent when the two months are compared. During July $375 was paid out to county indigents, and in August $335.

Over the state as a whole the number of persons receiving relief as county indigents was 10 per cent lower than in August than in July. In July 49,093 persons received this kind of aid, compared with 43,046 in August.

Total amount paid out for relief of county indigents by the 58 counties in the state was 9 per cent less for August than for July.

Judge and Mrs. Geo. Gildersleeve returned today from attending the three day convention of county judges in Bakersfield.

Write a Neighborhood News Letter to a Neighbor Boy in the Service

With the need to make every tire mile count and every minute count our ideas of a good time are changing. We can see by the papers how Block Clubs are creating neighborliness and evening hours are devoted to worthwhile projects that are fun. That means eyes are being used in more concentrated work. There is a chance of eyestrain unless lighting in the home is kept up to the standard needed for easy seeing. Observe all the dim-out rules about light outside your home but enjoy the dim-out with Adequate Light in your home.

AVOID WASTING LIGHT and yet have GOOD LIGHT too!

1 50% more light for same amount of money . . . A 100 watt bulb gives half again as much light as four 25 watt bulbs.

2 Place lamps where they are most useful . . . Often moving lamps a few inches will help make seeing easier—protect eyes from strain.

3 Keep lamp bulbs and bowls clean . . . Wipe lamp bulbs and bowls frequently with damp cloth. Replace blackened bulbs.

4 Lamp shades with white lining . . . will increase the diffusion of light as much as 50% in comparison to dark shades.

BIBLE WEEK TO OPEN OCT. 12

By RALPH H. TAYLOR

In the midst of a desperate war to save our country from being overrun and despoiled by wanton aggressors, with not only our American way of life at issue, but with the liberty of most of the civilized world hanging in the balance, the United States needs more than strength of arms—more than tanks and flying fortresses; more than all-out production from its farms and factories.

We, the people of the United States, have a very real need for the deep, abiding faith, and the strong religious convictions of our American forefathers; we have need to reconsecrate ourselves to the principles of right and decency—of truth and consideration for the rights of others—which have made America the citadel of human liberty.

Therefore, this writer believes it is within his province, even though this column is generally restricted to a discussion of farm problems, to urge the farm people of California to participate, earnestly and reverently, in the observance of the second annual Bible Week, which will begin the second Monday in October.

The desire for religious freedom gave birth to America—and out of religious faith today must come the courage and the ever-growing drive to save America. The Bible came to this country with the Pilgrim Fathers—and the Bible today is still a constant source of strength and comfort during times of stress and uncertainty in millions of homes throughout America.

Particularly is this true in the farmhouses of the nation, for the farm family has stayed closer, perhaps, to old truths and the standards of early Americanism than any other group in the country. Cynicism and superficial standards do not thrive on the farm, for God's handiwork is ever present, in the life that springs from the earth and in all the unsolved mysteries of growing things. On the most modern farm, the Bible is still the most up to date textbook—the Book that contains the answers to questions which the farm advisor, the College of Agriculture and the technicians can't cope with —questions which reach down to the mystery of life itself, and the significance of our every-day existence.

During recent weeks, newspapers and magazines have given widespread reproductinn o a significant painting by Howard Chandler Christy, calling public attention to this year's approaching observance of Bible Week.

This famous artist has pictured the figure of Uncle Sam, kneeling in prayer on a mountain above a blazing battlefields, a shining light from Heaven upon he upturned face, saying: "For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever!" And beneath the picture are the inspiring words: "Give us the faith and courage of our forefathers!"

War, in itself, is a barbarous thing—the negation of religion and every Biblical precept, unless it be a war in defense of human liberty and Christian principles.

It would be sheer sacrilege to picture Uncle Sam praying for victory, if we were engaged in a war of conquest—a war for territory or material advantage. But America is not fighting a war of possession; America is fighting that each man may have the right to worship as he sees fit; that human liberty and the dignity of man shall be respected; that no man shall be made the slave of another.

As we commemorate Bible Week this year, we need to reconsecreate ourselves to those principles—and as we go about our daily work, we need to put the Golden Rule into practical operation more frequently, so that we shall be worthy of the sacrifices of not only our forefathers, but of our sons and brothers who are dying that we may live and work and worship as free men.

UNITED WE STAND
COMMENTARY BY LOWELL THOMAS

Here's another reason why we will keep 'em rolling!

On July 31, 5,137 Southern Pacific men were serving in our country's armed forces; on August 31, 5,836 men; and on September 15, 6,214. That's a lot of men from one organization!

To these men, the ideal of service is nothing new. Railroading has always inspired devotion to duty, and a conductor wears the stars on his sleeve just as proudly as a sailor wears his "hash marks."

We miss these men badly, for we worked side by side with them. We also miss their long training and experience in railroad work—training and experience that just can't be replaced overnight. But we're going to do our best to back these men up, wherever they may be.

We who are left have the job of getting troops, equipment and war materials over the line to the places where they're needed, when they're needed. And though the traffic peak in the next few months will be the greatest we have ever faced, we promise our men in the service that we will not let them down.

So if you see an extra glint of determination in an engineer's eye, or a passenger representative on the road night and day accompanying troop trains, or a section hand swinging his pick as if the ballast were full of Japs—you'll know why they have a personal interest in this war, and a personal determination to do their part to keep 'em rolling.
